First ever RCMP Bike Rodeo

"Our goal is to teach Kids Bike Safety," said Constable Amanda Merlin

by Niki Luymes

The event took place on May 28, and was put on by Edson RCMP with help from Edson Victim Services, Citizens on Patrol, Yellowhead County and the Town of Edson.

Various members of the Edson RCMP detachment were on hand to interact with the kids including RCMP mascot Safety Bear. The event was staged in Griffiths Park Centre in Edson.

Throughout the event, which ran from 11am to 4 pm, kids were able to learn the basics of bike safety, enter various draws, and complete an educational

"Our goal is to teach Kids Bike Safety," said event organizer Constable Amanda Merlin. "As well, it's important to us [Edson RCMP] to get out with the youth and kids in the community and be able to engage with them and let them realize that we're a part of the community."

Kids who completed the training and obstacle course were given a certificate and entered for a chance to win a new bike donated by Indominus

Sports. While the kids could only enter the draw once, many of them enjoyed doing the obstacle course multiple times.

The event was a great way for families to gather and have fun, while also learning.

Town of Edson website has a new look

(Edson) The Town of Edson website has a new look and some new tools to help residents find information faster and improve the overall user experience.

The upgraded website was launched this week at www.edson.ca, and features new and improved interactive tools and improved search capabilities.

Communications Coordinator Steve Bethge says the focus for the website upgrade was ease of use for all users. “We really wanted to make our website accessible for everyone. Whether you're a long-time resident looking for the waste collection schedule, a visitor searching up local restaurants, or someone looking for business opportunities, we want all the information at your fingertips and easy to find”.

The website is live now and will be updated with even more new features over the next few weeks. Residents can look forward to a new tax calculator, improved trail maps, and a more robust contact list.

Edson.ca is also fully mobile responsive, but if you're looking for other mobile options, the Town of Edson mobile app can also be downloaded for both Apple and Android devices. With a robust news feed, report-a-problem feature, and trail maps, it's the perfect on-the-go Edson companion.

YKCS Athletes Compete at GYAC Track & Field

YKCS sent 27 grade 5-9 athletes to Harry Collinge High School in Hinton recently to compete against several other schools in the area. submitted by Joah Hit, YKCS student

Athletes from Yellowhead Koinonia Christian School (YKCS) competed in the GYAC tournament for Track & Field on Wednesday May 25. The school sent 27 grade 5-9 athletes to Harry Collinge High School in Hinton recently to compete against several other schools in the area. Kids from YKCS competed in both running and field events with 5 students heading to Zones in Onoway on June 14.

The students are all thankful to the coaches, Mr. Black and Mrs. Hit. Mrs. Hit taught the kids about javelin and some running and jumping. Mr. Black taught about the running among other events. Overall, the students were able to achieve more than 10 points for their school. Though the students didn't win everything, they were grateful for the memories and being able to participate in the Track & Field meet.

Surging global coal use highlights opportunity for LNG

There are 2,449 coal-fired plants operating around the world, 189 are under construction and a further 292 are planned for the near future

by Deborah Jaremko

Coal use around the world is rising in what the head of the International Energy Agency (IEA) calls “a sobering reality check” for targets to reduce emissions.

Against that backdrop, global demand for liquefied natural gas (LNG) is soaring, in part because it can help displace coal power and reduce emissions by half – or more, if the LNG comes from Canada.

“Global electricity generation from coal this year will be the highest ever in history,” IEA executive director Fatih Birol said at the virtual launch of the agency’s latest report on the state of global coal in December 2021.

“The numbers are really worrying when you look at it from a climate change point of view,” he said.

Total global coal consumption is now well above where it was before the COVID-19 pandemic, reaching a record 7.9 billion tonnes in 2021 compared to 7.8 billion tonnes in 2019, the IEA reports.

The growth is expected to continue, with consumption reaching a new high of eight billion tonnes in 2024.

IEA says it will be driven by India and China, where coal power is expected to increase despite the roll out of “impressive amounts” of solar and wind capacity to generate power.

There are 2,449 coal-fired power plants operating around the world, according to Global Energy Monitor. Another 189 are under construction, and a further 292 are in “pre-construction” or planned for the near future.

“This is a major challenge,” Birol said. “In particular from the perspective of emerging and developing countries, where you see coal might be playing a critical role in providing electricity and keeping the affordability of electricity prices.”

A solution is LNG or the global trade of natural gas by ocean tanker.

According to Shell’s latest report, even with COVID lockdowns, world LNG demand rose to 380 million tonnes in 2021 from 360 million tonnes in 2020. That’s expected to nearly double and cross 700 million tonnes by 2040.

Using natural gas instead of coal to fuel power plants reduces emissions by about 50 per cent on average, IEA says.

LNG from Canada can deliver an even more significant decrease, reducing emissions by up to 62 per cent, according to a 2020 study published in the Journal of Cleaner Production.

That’s partly because Canada’s LNG projects are expected to have the lowest emissions intensity – or emissions per unit of LNG – in the world.

The LNG Canada project under construction, for example, is expected to have emissions of 0.15 per cent CO2 per tonne of LNG, less than half the global average of 0.35 per cent, according to Oxford Energy Institute.

Proposed LNG projects in British Columbia that would use more hydro-electricity from the province’s power grid are expected to have even lower emissions intensity: 0.08 per cent for Indigenous-led Cedar LNG and 0.03 per cent for Woodfibre LNG.

“We do have cheap, plentiful supplies of natural gas both in northeast B.C. and throughout Alberta, and we do have shorter shipping distances to Asia,” says Ian Archer, associate director of gas, power and climate solutions with S&P Global.

“But what we have is very limited infrastructure to connect those two points.”

Deborah Jaremko is director of content for the Canadian Energy Centre, an Alberta government corporation funded in part by taxes paid by industry on carbon emissions. © Troy Media

Greetings from Ella! I am a high drive, high energy, 3 month old puppy. They say I am an "Alberta Special" breed, all I know is I like older kids and fun young dogs. Even cats are fun, but sometimes too fun if they run. I was told I'm not supposed to chase, but I'm still working on that! I am crate trained and I go outside to potty all by myself because we have a doggy door. I prefer a dog knowledgeable home, and maybe some puppy classes, because I can be a bit reactive if I'm feeling unsure about things. I haven't been spayed yet, so I am available for "foster to adopt" at this time. Please visit www.edsonanimalrescue.com and fill out a "Foster to Adopt" application if you think we could be a match!

Last year, 70% of wildfires in the Edson Forest Area were human caused.

Dry grass and crops can easily ignite from a spark, friction, or hot exhaust. Use extreme caution when welding, grinding or operating equipment.

Prevention is Key.

How can you prevent a wildfire? Have sufficient water and firefighting equipment nearby. Prepare a safe and incinerary free work site. Avoid hot and windy days.

GYPSP Teacher Wins Award

Teacher Aimee Allers holding her award.

(GYPDS) Let's all send out a big hooray to Aimee Allers, who is one of two Zone 2/3 winners for the Alberta School Boards Association (ASBA), Edwin Parr First Year Teacher Award! Aimee was selected as GYPSP's nominee for the prestigious provincial award as part of the Board's selection process, where three first-year teachers in GYPSP were first nominated by their principals, and then invited to present to the Board of Trustees at the March 9th Public Board Meeting.

Each school division in Alberta, a total of 61 boards, is invited to select a nominee for the Edwin Parr Award. Award winners are selected based on their knowledge of their students' learning styles, the utilization of a variety of evaluation methods, skills in diagnosing the knowledge of students, the ability to assist students in developing a positive attitude, and involvement in extracurricular and professional development activities.

On Friday, May 27, 2022, the six Edwin Parr Teacher Award winners were announced at the Edwin Parr Banquet. Aimee was proudly attended by Superintendent Lewis, Deputy Superintendent Kastrinos, Grande Cache Community High School Principal Jackie Mines, and GYPSP Trustees, Melodie Bobilek from Lobstick, Fiona Fowler and Jocelyn Pettitt from Edson, and Shirley Caputo from Hinton.

Well done Aimee - we are so proud of you - congratulations!

A few of the many volunteers at the Edson Food Bank during the free community BBQ that was held on May 28. The community is awesome at supporting the local Food Bank in order to help many in need. It was a special thank you to all the businesses, companies, and individuals that step up to donate to the Food Bank. A huge shout out to all the wonderful volunteers that put in countless hours each month.

William (Bill) Allison Collin

APRIL 11, 1937 – MAY 20, 2022

It is with great sadness that the family of William (Bill) Collin announce his passing on May 20, 2022, in Calgary, AB at the age of 85 years. He was a beloved husband, father, grandfather, great-grandfather, uncle and friend. Bill was never daunted by any task he was faced with and thrived on finding solutions and lending a helping hand, whether that was with a phone call, the work of his hands or a hug. He was faced with the biggest challenge of his life when diagnosed with lymphoma but was determined he was going to live at least another 15 years and was doing a fantastic job of "beating cancer" to the wonder of his doctors. Unfortunately, he fell ill and was needed as an angel in heaven rather than our angel here on earth. He will always be with us whether in our memories and lifelong values he instilled or guiding us from heaven.

Bill was born April 11, 1937, at home in Edson, the 7th child of George and Josephine Collin. He is pre-deceased by brothers, McGuire (Mac), George, Merton (Slim), Lloyd as well as sisters Marion and Elaine. Bill is survived by his wife, Glenda and their 5 children: Carrie (Randy), Dave (Christina), Tricia, Jeff (Jody) and Sheila (Dave) as well as 17 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Bill was known as a piper of children and animals, his gentle spirit attracting and soothing everyone around him. He was a favourite uncle to his many nieces and nephews spending quality time with them and creating lifelong memories. If your baby/child would not eat just let them sit on Papa's lap and they would soon be eating. He was also known as a jack-of-all-trades. There was rarely anything he put his hand to that he was unable to fix or repair. He started life out working in his brother's grocery store, he operated a vacuum truck, has worked for an oil company, a sulphur plant and a company that painted airplanes finally finding his niche as a business owner/operator. He was a very resourceful man always thinking how to make something work or work better. He always encouraged his loved ones to be whatever they wanted to be no matter how big or small the dreams. He despised cruelty and was a true caretaker of people and animals and will be missed every day by many.

THE HELP YOU NEED WHEN YOU NEED IT

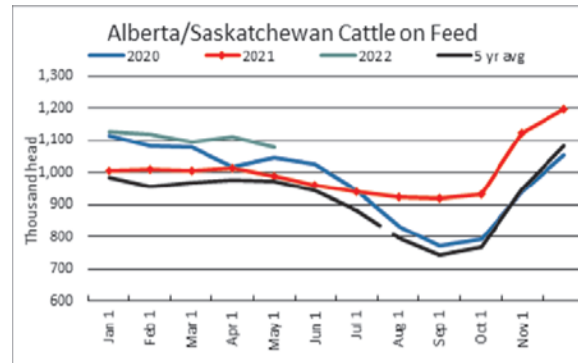

Large numbers of cattle continue to be sent to feedlots

“The May 1, 2022 USDA release of cattle and calves on feed for U.S. feedlots with capacity of 1,000 or more head reported 12 million head,” says Ann Boyda, provincial livestock market analyst with Alberta Agriculture, Forestry and Rural Economic Development. “This inventory was the highest May 1 inventory since 1996, representing a 2% increase over May 1, 2021. The report suggests that the drought in the U.S. is affecting the flow of cattle from grass to feedlots.”

Canfax has similarly reported high cattle on feed inventories with placements above year ago levels in March and April.

“Variable dry conditions across the province, especially in the south, may be a factor in some producers’ decisions,” explains Boyda. “Placements remain steady, keeping feedlot inventory numbers at high levels. Slaughter levels will likely be larger in the 6 to 8 month window from March and then slow down by early 2023.”

“Alberta and Saskatchewan cattle on feed inventories have been running above year ago levels since August 2021. In April, disappearance numbers were down as cattle typically destined for grass stayed in the feedlot to be finished,” says Brenna Grant, executive director with Canfax. Agri-News
