fundraiser. The event, which has become a popular tradition, has been running for the past six years. This year the event ran for the full weekend instead of the normal two nights. Beginning Thursday the 27 to Sunday from 6pm to 9 pm, people could come out to enjoy tricks and treats, all while supporting a good cause. The Haunted Forest was set up in its usual spot down the North Road along Township Road 535. For the first night, EARS offered a Little Goblin glow-in-the-dark night which was devoid of jump-scares so that younger kids could enjoy the haunted forest. This was also true for the first hour of every night.

However, from 7pm onward Friday to Sunday, scares were offered-up to all who dared enter the haunted forest. After they were done the trails, attendees were welcomed to enjoy the games, bake sale, glitter tattoos, 'ghost' balloons, and a free outdoor movie. Sunday was also Halloween Eve Costume Night for those who like to dress up, and featured exclusive draws for awesome prizes.

“Every year the event gets bigger!” said Lisa Wilkinson, EARS board member and fundraising coordinator. “This year we opened up a new section of trail, so there was more time required to brush-out and decorate the trail.” Despite chillier weather, all nights had a consistent stream of people, with Saturday night being the busiest. In total about 2,400 people made their way through the haunted forest this year.

All the fun and scares wouldn't be possible without all the volunteers. “Of course, there are countless volunteers who contribute to the event's success. We start work on preparing the site in September, and on the nights the event is running, we have many volunteers operating various stations. The 'scarers' go to a lot of effort to dress up and make the walk through the forest frighteningly fun,” said Wilkinson.

There was fun to be had alongside the scares at the annual EARS Haunted Forest Fundraiser. The 'monster munch' was only one of the games on site all weekend. photo Niki Luymes

Edson Town Council Highlights for November 1

Edson West Area Structure Plan. Council passed first reading of Bylaw 2282 – Edson West Area Structure Plan Amending Bylaw. The Amending Bylaw is a housekeeping item to capture the changes to Yellowhead County's Land Use Bylaw and does not substantively change the context or purpose of the Area Structure Plan. A Public Hearing for Bylaw 2282 has been scheduled for November 15th, 2022, at 7pm in Council Chambers.

Municipal Energy Manager Program Final Report. Council has approved the final report for the Municipal Energy Manager Program as information. The program started in 2020 and was very successful over the past 2 years. In depth assessments were conducted on municipal buildings and many energy conservation measures were identified. This allowed the Town to reduce greenhouse gas emissions by about 32% compared to 2019 levels and save nearly $100,000 per year in saved utility costs. More details on the program can be found at www.edson.ca/green.

2022 Tax Auction Reserve Bids. Council has set the reserve bids for the properties scheduled for tax sale on November 16th, 2022.

Operational Budget – Council Inquiries. A report outlining additional budget requests from Council was accepted for information. Some of the items include two summer students to assist with road projects, the annual inclusion of a skating loop for the community, dust control for the Willmore Park access road, and additional funding for full implementation of the Leisure Assist Program. The items will be discussed further during the operational budget review during the November 15th, 2022, Council Meeting.

Next meetings - The next Committee of the Whole meeting is scheduled for November 8th, 2022, at 7:00 pm. The next Council meeting is scheduled for November 15th, 2022, at 7:00 pm.

COUNTY COUNCIL HIGHLIGHTS: Oct. 25

County makes plans to display Treaty and Métis flags Treaty Flag – Yellowhead County Council voted to take steps to display Treaty and Métis flags alongside the current national, provincial, and municipal flags at the Yellowhead County office in Edson. Yellowhead County will contact representatives of these nations for consent and inclusion prior to putting up these flags at the County office.

Public Hearing – A Public Hearing was held for Bylaw 17.22 that would return a property in Niton Junction to districting matching more closely to what it was prior to the adoption of Land Use Bylaw 09.21. The proposed amending bylaw would change the current Urban Neighbourhood District zoning to Urban Neighbourhood District, Commercial District and Rural District.

ASB Bursary Awarded – A $500 Agricultural Services Bursary was awarded to Taylor Eaton on the recommendation of the Yellowhead County Agricultural Services Board. Taylor met all the requirements for the bursary and showed a history of community and agricultural participation in Yellowhead County.

Letter of Support for Seniors Grant – Council approved letters of support to both the Robb Recreation Association and the Evansburg Seniors Citizens Society expressing support for their New Horizons for Seniors Program Grant. This is a federal government grant program that provides grants to senior and senior-serving organizations.

Hamlet & Inter-municipal ASPs Updates – Council passed amendments to six hamlet Area Structure Plans (ASPs) and the Hinton-Yellowhead County Intermunicipal Development Plan. These changes included updating the references to the land use districts in the plans so they match the existing districts in Land Use Bylaw 09.21 (updated in 2021). Public Hearings were held on October 11, 2022, prior to Council voting to adopt

HIGHLIGHTS

Yellowhead County Organizational Meeting

(Oct. 25) Deputy Mayor - Councillor Mitchell was declared by Mayor Williams as the Deputy Mayor for a one year term ending October 24, 2023. The Deputy Mayor fulfills the role of the Chief Elected Officer when the Mayor is unavailable.

Board Appointments of Yellowhead County Councillors: Council members were appointed by Mayor Williams to several Yellowhead County Boards, Joint Boards with other Authorities, and various external boards and committees. Some of these boards are Statutory Boards and are required by the provincial government to be created by a local municipal government. The full list of appointments is attached.

Appointments of Residents to Yellowhead County Boards – Council appointed several residents to various Yellowhead County Boards including two statutory boards that are required by provincial legislation.

- Heritage Advisory Board - Trudy Van Dyk
- Library Board - Susan Otway; Sandra Cherniawsky
- Subdivision and Development Appeal Board - Tanya Sawicki
- Family & Community Services Advisory Board - The appointments to the Family & Community Services Advisory Board have been deferred until the November 22, 2022 Council Meeting.

FRANCHISE FEE INCREASE NOTICE

Please be advised that the Town of Edson is proposing to increase the local access fee, which is charged to FortisAlberta Inc. (FortisAlberta) for use of municipal lands for its power lines effective January 1, 2023.

The fee is recovered by FortisAlberta from its customers as the local municipal access fee on electric billings of all customers that receive electric service in Town. This local access fee will be increased from $3.38 (4.75%) to $3.59 (4.91%) of the delivery charge of FortisAlberta, excluding energy related riders. This calculation is based on 640 kWh consumption in 30 days.

Questions or concerns should be directed to Sarah Bittner, General Manager of Corporate Services at (780) 723-4401.

communities. This year we are continuing these features with the Evansburg Legion.

But many readers have also asked us about our previous Remembrance Day issues that featured historical photos and descriptions of many of our local vets. Due to the same economic impact of the Covid shutdowns on local businesses and advertising budgets, printing the extensive pages needed for this costly section has, unfortunately, not been possible.

After a bit of brainstorming this year though, we decided that (in conjunction with our newspaper's Remembrance Day section) we could bring back our historical section in digital format on our website! After all, these are the people that we honour during Remembrance Day, along with all those who served and continue to serve our nation.

Please take the time to look at both sections and learn a bit about our Legions and our local vets. Website links can be found in the Remembrance Day section of this issue.

On November 11 at the Edson, Wildwood, and Evansburg Legions people will be paying tribute and giving thanks. Please take time to join them —it's a small price to pay for our freedom so dearly bought.

We enjoy a lot of freedom in Canada. We are free to choose who and what we want to be, where we want to live, what we believe, and the freedom to choose our leaders. We are free to choose most of the things that affect our daily lives. But did you know this freedom was bought at a very dear price?

It was Canada's military fathers, mothers, sons, and daughters who paid the price for what we so often seem to take for granted.

Nearly one in ten Canadians who fought in the war did not return. And those who did return carried with them the physical and emotional scars of many terrible battles.

After a difficult two years of shutdowns, Remembrance Day services at the Edson, Wildwood, and Evansburg Legions return to their more customary ceremonies with both outside and inside components.

Due to the added difficulties Legions faced during the shutdowns, The Weekly Anchor decided to focus our next three years of Remembrance issues on stories about our local Legions and their histories in our

~ Obituary ~

Anna Storozhenko

Anna Storozhenko passed away on October 30, 2022, at the age of 91.

Anna Sophie Jakubow was born June 23, 1931, in Mundare, Alberta, to Mike and Nancy Jakubow. As a young girl her family moved to a homestead in Droston, where her two brothers, Frank and Joe, were born. She worked hard on the farm and attended to school in Droston. She married Victor Storozhenko on April 13, 1953, in New Kiew, Alberta. (A Ukrainian Catholic Church)

They lived with Victor's mom and dad on the farm and later rented a farm in Vegreville. They had 3 sons: Ken, Jerry and Danny.

In 1955 they moved to Edson, where Victor worked as a carpenter and truck driver, while Anna was a very busy stay at home mom with 3 rambunctious boys. She loved working in the garden and making traditional ukrainian dishes.

Sadly, she lost Victor in 1986. Her favourite times were when her whole family was together. She will be missed by all.

Anna is survived by her three sons, Ken (Julie), Jerry (Sandy), Danny (Margaret), seven grandchildren, Chris, Shawn, Johnathan, Carissa, Tyler, Michael and Terry, as well as 8 great grandchildren, Brody, Cash, Jesse, Duke, Theo, Bo, Charlie and Phoebe.

A Funeral Service was held at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church on Friday, November 4, 2022, at 1:00 PM with interment to follow at the Glenwood Cemetery.

Crown Jewels of Canada Society: Edson Chapter

by Deanna Mitchener

You may remember the RED Hat Society, well these ladies used to belong to it. It's a global society of women that supports and encourages women in their pursuit of fun, friendship, freedom, fulfillment, and fitness. The society is dedicated to reshaping the way women are viewed in today's culture.

Now they have transformed to become part of the Crown Jewels of Canada Society, a Canadian non-profit version of the Red Hats, dedicated to uniting women across Canada in a social environment offering friendship and support. Founded in 2009, the all Canadian society spans from Vancouver Island to Prince Edward Island.

Their members are women from all walks of life. Their objective is to unite women across Canada in a social environment offering friendship and support, while taking time for themselves and the responsibilities of our everyday life, a few hours at a time.

If you would like to find out more, they would love to hear from you.

Black Knot | Info & Pruning Guideline

Black Knot - What Is It?

Yellowhead County's Agricultural Services Department has received numerous calls regarding black growths on residents' fruit trees.

These tar-like black swellings are a sign of Black Knot and will distort and stunt any tree species within the Prunus genus.

Black Knot reduces the aesthetic value of affected trees and, if left long enough, may result in eventual death of the tree.

The disease spreads in the spring, attacking new growth on branches. The spores released by the fungi can be carried by wind and splashing rain.

The only reliable method of controlling Black Knot is pruning.

Black Knot - Pruning

1. Only prune between November and March.
2. Cleanly cut off at least 6 - 8 inches below the knot, better to prune back to a healthy collar, then leaving a stub.
3. For knots on branches or trunks that can't be removed, use a knife to cut away diseased tissue down to good wood and then 1/2 inch beyond the edge of the knot.
4. Cleaning your equipment properly is another good way to prevent the spread. Pruning shears should be dipped in a 1% bleach/water solution between cuts and once you are finished pruning ensure you run your tools under water for 10 minutes and dry thoroughly.
5. Treat pruned branches like hazardous waste, they can release spores for up to 4 months. Burn, bury, or wrap them in plastic and throw them in the trash. Do not compost.

Ag Chemical Jugs RETURN TO RETAIL Starts January 2023

WHAT TO KNOW: As part of a province-wide initiative, Starting January 1, 2023, Ag jugs will no longer be accepted at Yellowhead County Transfer Stations: Peers, Parkcourt (Evansburg), and Wildwood.

Remember to get a free Cleanfarms collection bag when the product is picked up or delivered, and then:

- 1. Rinse
 - Use a chemical handler or a pressure nozzle to triple-rinse the containers to ensure no product is wasted
- 2. Remove & Bag
 - Remove paper booklets, and discard
 - Place rinsed containers in a CleanFarms collection bag and tie closed
- 3. Return for recycling
 - Return rinsed and bagged jugs to your participating ag retailer
- 4. Seed treatment containers
 - Caps are to remain securely ON
 - Place in a separate collection bag (seed treatment containers are processed separately from chemical containers and need to be kept in their own bags)

Return empty ag jugs to retail

Call for hours of operation

All Yellowhead County municipal Ag Jug collection locations will stop taking jugs by December 31, 2022.

More info is available at <https://cleanfarms.ca/mb-ab-jug-transition/>

Twine - it's one of the easiest ag plastics to recycle

Did you know that burning twine releases toxins into the air?

Recycle it instead, and give your old twine new life!

Recycled twine can easily be remanufactured into new products such as car parts, dimensional lumber, flowerpots, and composite decking!

Preparing twine for recycling:

- 1 - Shake to remove as much debris as possible.
- 2 - Bag loose twine in a clear collection bag. Farmers can get these at no charge from the Wildwood Yellowhead County Office!
- 3 - Return to a collection site. In Yellowhead County, bagged baler twine is accepted at the Peers, Wildwood, and Parkcourt transfer stations.

Pine Grove Hall Family Halloween Howler

by Dawn Olsvik

On October 29, approximately 160 adults and children gathered at Pine Grove Hall for the Family Halloween Howler. Activities for the day included a hay ride sponsored by Johnson & Herbert Construction, games in the pavilion, a bonfire and hot chocolate, a buffet dinner with chili, hotdogs, salads, buns, garlic toast and many themed desserts. There was also a DJ to provide music for the families to dance to.

County Councillor, Brigitte Lemieux, was helping serve the goodies. She said, "Years ago we would take our kids to Pine Grove Hall for events, so here we are 30 year later and it was so much fun being able to take my grandkids to the 2022 Halloween Howler. Not only did we create great memories, the event was community building at its best."

This event was a huge success for the hall which has been struggling to stay open. Shawn Holden, President of the Pine Grove Community Association, said, "We had been operating for 5 or 6 years with only 8-10 working members. That is not enough to host any fundraising events, but when the call came out, 35-40 people have stepped up, joined the hall and formed the committees to allow it to move forward."

Holden added, "Anyone can come and join the hall from anywhere, $5 for a single membership and $10 for a family. Volunteer when you can, be a part of this area's history, help save a storied facility. Meetings once a month." He continued, "Call me for details at 780-728-6340. Bookings can be made by contacting our Booking Co-ordinator Jenn Donovan @ info@pinegrovehall.ca 6. We are planning a Christmas social Sunday Dec 10, as well as a New Years Eve Gala, details to follow."

Opinion/Comment

The world requires abundant, reliable, affordable energy; Canada is the solution

by Deborah Jaremko, Canadian Energy Centre

The European Parliament is endorsing a dangerous and misguided “fossil fuel non-proliferation treaty” that would cause harm to people around the world.

The political forum is recommending that European Union member states phase out fossil fuels as soon as possible and stop all new investments in fossil fuel extraction.

The “treaty” implies that the ongoing use of oil and gas is an imminent threat to human society as dire as the atomic bomb. That is wrong.

And it's an odd stance to take for a region without enough natural gas, countries face winter emergency measures like community “warming halls” and widespread power blackouts.

Reducing emissions from oil and gas is essential, but shutting down the industry would only hurt humanity.

Canada is a global leader in responsible oil and gas development.

Europe should work with Canada to accelerate oil and gas exports to ensure affordability and reliability while moving to reduce emissions. It should not endorse dangerous rhetoric that would result in a more insecure world.

Fact: The world needs oil and gas to function.

Modern life relies on oil and gas, for transportation and home heating/cooling, food supply and everyday products like your cell phone, computer and your clothes. And everything from health care items like heart valves and anesthetics to critical infrastructure like buildings, roads and bridges.

Today, oil and gas supply about 52 per cent of global energy needs, according to the International Energy Agency (IEA). That's projected to still be at 47 per cent in 2050, despite the rise of renewable and alternative sources.

According to the European Commission, “adequate warmth, cooling, lighting, and energy to power appliances are essential services that underpin a decent standard of living and health. Access to energy services is essential for social inclusion.”

Fact: Europe's largest economy is walking back on renewable energy.

A leading architect of Germany's “Energiewende” push towards wind and solar over coal, oil, gas and nuclear recently admitted that renewable energy alone is insufficient to maintain reliable supply.

“We have to acknowledge that no country in the world is able to provide 100 per cent of energy demand by renewable energies,” said Peter Altmaier. He served as federal minister for economic affairs and energy from 2018 to 2021.

Even before Russia invaded Ukraine, Europe was facing an energy crisis partly due to over-reliance on wind power when the wind wasn't blowing.

Countries, including Germany, are now extending the life of coal-fired power plants to ensure sufficient energy supply during the coming winter.

Germany is even dismantling wind turbines in order to expand a coal mine that supplies a power plant. The mine expansion also includes the demolition of a small town west of Cologne.

“The challenge today is that even if you expand the capacities of renewable energies, you still will need classical traditional energies like oil and gas and nuclear,” Altmaier said.

“We have to find solutions that are affordable and do work in practice ... We have to realize that energy transition is not as simple as some people would like.”

Fact: Renewable energy is not reliable at scale to replace oil and gas.

Alternative and renewable energy is increasingly important in the world energy mix, but the reality is these technologies alone are not yet capable of providing the energy the world needs.

This January, the European Commission published draft changes to its “taxonomy,” or sustainable investor guidelines, adding natural gas and nuclear power because of their proven potential to reduce emissions while providing a stable energy supply.

The commission said that renewable energy sources “are not yet commercially available at sufficient scale” at an appropriate threshold.

Fact: The world's growing population requires more energy, not less.

More than 730 million people around the world do not have access to electricity, primarily in Sub-Saharan Africa, according to the IEA. The COVID pandemic has made the situation even more challenging.

NJ Ayuk, executive chairman of the African Energy Chamber: “Oil and gas remain critically important to meet Africa's economic and energy needs, and that need is greater than ever.”

According to United Nations forecasts, the world's population is expected to grow by about two billion to reach 9.7 billion by 2050.

They will need access to abundant, affordable, reliable energy – and much of it will come from oil and gas.

Fact: Canada is a responsible, reliable oil and gas supplier.

Canada should be the solution as European nations and countries worldwide look for reliable energy suppliers while reducing greenhouse gas emissions.

Canada's oil sands is the world's only major oil basin where producers have jointly committed to reaching net zero emissions by 2050.

And Canada ranks number one among the world's top oil reserve holders for environmental, social and governance (ESG) performance.

ESG measures a variety of metrics, including greenhouse gas emissions, water use, Indigenous engagement, worker safety, diversity and inclusion, absence of violence/terrorism, and regulatory processes.

Fact: Canada's natural gas can help the world get off coal.

Using natural gas instead of coal to fuel power plants reduces emissions by about 50 per cent on average, the IEA says.

Liquefied natural gas (LNG) carried by tanker from Canada can deliver an even more significant decrease, reducing emissions by up to 62 per cent, according to a 2020 study published in the Journal for Cleaner Production.

According to Shell's latest report, global LNG demand is expected to nearly double to 700 million tonnes in 2040. The rise is driven by emerging economies working to get off coal power.

The world's growing population requires abundant, reliable, affordable energy to thrive. Canada is the solution to provide the responsible and reliable energy the world needs. © Troy Media

A Monthly Update on the Coal Industry

ENERGY EDUCATION IN ACTION

Future of Coal will be Abated, says World Coal

The World Coal Association (WCA) says abatement technologies exist to eliminate up to 99 per cent of CO2 emissions and the spate of global energy challenges prove that clean technologies must be accelerated.

Speaking to a panel discussion at the ASEAN Energy Business Forum today, World Coal Association CEO, Michelle Manook, said efficiency, reliability and abatement technologies must be prioritised if the world is serious about assessing energy security in the context of economic reality and climate ambitions.

“We support countries that have adopted energy pathways which exemplify a more sustainable approach to the use of coal resources, consistent with the Paris Agreement.

“This is especially applicable to less developed countries where both energy supply and socio-economic circumstances are under considerable stress, but it makes sense for all countries which require energy security, reliability and affordability.”

Some of the key technologies which fall into this abatement category are:

- High Efficiency Low Emissions (HELE)
- Carbon Capture and Storage (CCS/CCUS)
- Coal Gasification
- Coal Biomass co-combustion
- Pollution Control Technology

In addition, given global investment in coal power and heating, particularly in a young South Asian fleet, coal plants should not be considered as ‘stranded assets’ but instead as major contributors to the future coal agenda.

This includes the repurposing of coal plants so they can switch to producing coal to fertilisers as a catalyst for increased food production, and coal to other post-combustion derivatives including hydrogen, chemicals, polymers, carbon fiber and foam.

Ms Manook says coal suffers from misinformation and a general lack of understanding about the raft of technologies which can abate up to 99% of coal pollutants.

“Today government and investment policies can be better informed and remain agnostic to fuels and inclusive of all technologies if the focus is on a cost benefit realistic analysis inclusive of both the economics and science.”

“The reality is that with technology, coal will be cleaner and operate at efficiency levels rarely seen in ageing coal fleets across much of Europe and North America.”

Ms Manook says it is clear that as an industry, coal cannot remain the same.

“We will need to work harder as a united coal value chain to educate and provide a sustainable coal pathway to all stakeholders.”

“The current and future coal industry is being called on to define and navigate sustainable development and decarbonisation solutions which address poverty, economic development and the energy security that the global community demands.”

R EMEMBRANCE DAY

SERVICE Friday, November 11 at 10:50 am sharp

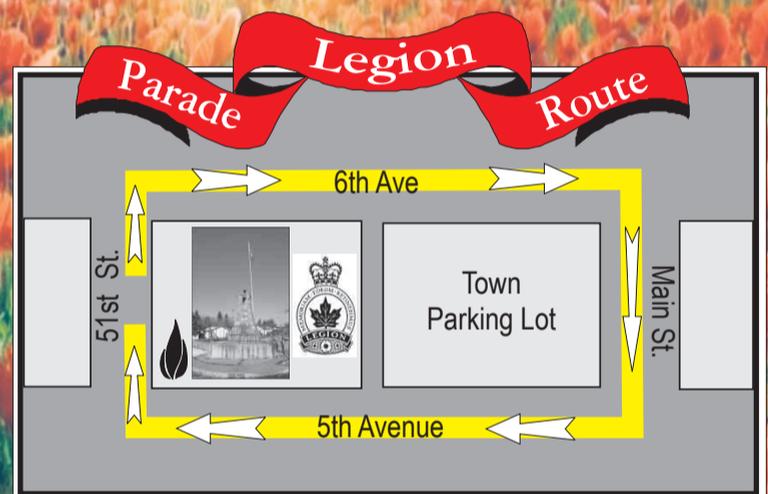

We are once again able to hold our Remembrance Day Ceremony in our auditorium. There will be a short parade - forming up at the rear of the building, they will proceed down the alley to 51 St to 6 Ave, down 50 St to 5 Ave, to 51 St past the Cenotaph and into the auditorium.

Anyone wishing to participate in the parade is asked to meet on the north side of the building at 10:15am. The Remembrance Day Service will start at 10:30am.

A luncheon will be served at 1:15pm and you will have the choice of ham and scalloped potatoes or fried chicken.

While you are enjoying your lunch, we will be presenting an afternoon program which will include our Guest Speakers, Edson Pipe and Drums, presentations of awards and student bursaries.

See you at the Legion!

On behalf of Joe Wynne Branch No. 51, I would like to extend a huge "Thank You" to all the businesses and community members that supported the 2022 Poppy Fund Campaign.

Many people ask about the Poppy Campaign and how the money raised is used. The primary use of the Poppy Fund is to support those veterans, serving members of the military and RCMP and their families that need extra help. Things such as loss of work, an illness or an injury, loss of employment or a change in the family dynamics can leave them with unexpected expenses.

We have helped veterans on a limited income with medical expenses for prescriptions not covered by medical insurance, completed improvements to their homes to help with mobility, transportation to medical appointments and medical equipment that improves their way of life.

We also provide bursaries for secondary education to children, grandchildren and great grandchildren of Veterans and we proudly sponsor the 874 Edson Tiger Moth Air Cadet Squadron's training.

... AND SO MUCH MORE!

The Joe Wynne Branch No. 51 will continue to support our veterans and surrounding community with your help.

Yours in Service,
Wendy Williams

The Evansburg Legion: Then and Now

Part 3 of the Weekly Anchor's Remembrance Day three-year series on local Legions. Part 1 and 2 included the Edson and Wildwood Legions

by Shaylyn Thornton

The Evansburg Legion Branch No. 196 has been an important part of our local communities since they were granted their charter in 1946.

Branch No. 196 had 12 founding members who started off meeting in a small room in the top of a red house, as they had no Legion building for the first three years. After the local community hall burned down, Branch No. 196 collaborated with Evansburg community groups to help rebuild the hall as "The Royal Canadian Legion Community Hall."

While part of the rebuild was covered by insurance, much of the funds came from money raised by the Legion. The hall reopened to the public in 1949. Since that time, the hall has gone through several expansions, adding wings on each side and digging out the basement.

Legion membership has also grown considerably over the years. Currently, there are just under 200 members, although pre-COVID they saw numbers as high as 350.

Past President Floyd Fausak noted that about 75% of members are locals from the Evansburg, Entwistle, and Drayton Valley areas, however they still have long-time Legion members who keep up their membership despite having moved away.

Fausak said that he has been a member for about 15 years now, and a board member since 2013. "We're a pretty proud group, and our main goal is to be of service to veterans and veteran's families," he said.

Fausak became involved with the Legion through his father, who was a World War II veteran. He said that there were many soldiers from the Evansburg area, both male and female, who went off to fight in WWII.

Fausak estimated the number to be around 250 people who went off to fight for our freedoms during the second world war, based on photos and records he was able to find. Afterwards, many WWII veterans continued to make the Evansburg area home.

The Evansburg Legion also has a cenotaph, which is erected near The Royal Canadian Legion Community Hall. The cenotaph represents all veterans lost in any war or in peacetime.

One important aspect of any Legion is its dedication to the community. The Evansburg Legion has been a great example of this throughout the years, donating to and helping many organizations, both local and outside the community.

Hockey, dance, seniors' groups, and Camp He Ho Ha are just a few of the beneficiaries of the Evansburg Legion. Fausak noted that, in the "glory years with lots of volunteers" there were "10s of thousands of dollars given away every year." While donating to that extent is not currently possible, Branch No. 196 continues to find ways to help when they can.

One way the Evansburg Legion has continued to give back is through their purchase and operation of the Evansburg Lodge. Out of 22 residents, 4 are veterans. The Evansburg Lodge is run by volunteer board members.

The community hall is also benefited by "dedicated volunteers" who "work very hard" on everything from events to facility maintenance. With "massive utility bills," these volunteers make such a difference in the continued operation of the building.

You can also help support your local Legions by taking part in events, visiting their establishments, or buying a membership. The Evansburg Legion holds several events that you can support, including weekly meat draws, holiday-related events and, of course, their yearly Remembrance Day celebration.

Fausak noted that the Evansburg Legion's celebration is "traditionally one of the largest" in the local areas, often seeing approximately 250-300 people. During COVID, only a cenotaph ceremony could be had, but this year the group is able to do a full service, parade, and wreath-laying. After the ceremony, the Lounge will be open, and the band Flat Broke will also be providing some live entertainment later in the day.

Everyone is welcome to attend, no membership is required. You can find more information about this event and others on the Evansburg Legion's social media.

Fausak also encouraged the public to support your local Legion, wherever you're located. "We're all struggling right now," he said. "The main thing is to get out and support your Legion. The very least we can do is be grateful for our freedom."

Parade gathers at 10:30am for the march to the Cenotaph. Service at the Cenotaph begins at 10:50am with indoor service to follow. Following the indoor service a light lunch will be available. The Victory Lounge will be open with a light dinner offered later on.

Remembrance Day is a time to reflect: MLA Long

Remembrance Day is a time to reflect on the lives we are afforded as Canadians, a fortune that can often be overlooked or forgotten due to our busy-ness.

Many men and women before us made the choice to "serve their country". While this can conjure up many ideas, it is the conscious choice to put service before self. These men and women travelled far away from their families, their homes, their communities to fight for and protect those they left behind.

On November 11, we take time to reflect and honour those that made that choice, and those that still continue to do so.

We remember those that lost their lives in the ultimate sacrifice for Canada and for the preservation of freedom for Canadians and allies around the globe.

We honor the brave Canadians in uniform who have served and continue to serve our country in times of war, conflict and peace.

By remembering their service and their sacrifice, we recognize the tradition of freedom these men and women fought to preserve.

They believe/believed that their actions in the present would make a significant difference for the future, but it is up to us to ensure that their dream of peace is realized.

On Remembrance Day, we acknowledge the courage and sacrifice of those who serve/served our country and acknowledge our responsibility to work for the peace they have been so determined to achieve.

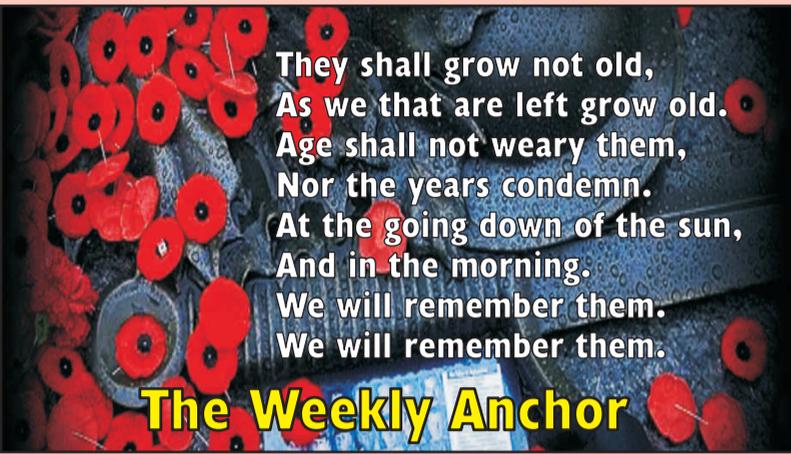

On November 11, we shall remember them.

Madame Anna Guérin, later christened "The Poppy Lady from France", inspired by John McCrae's "In Flanders Fields", had an idea: to adopt the distribution of the Poppy on Armistice Day as a way to raise money for Veterans' needs and to remember those who had given their lives during the First World War. In July of 1921 the Great War Veterans Association (which in 1925 would unify with other Veteran groups to form the Canadian Legion) adopted the Poppy as the flower of Remembrance. Since then, the Legion and its members have upheld this tradition of Remembrance.

2022 harvest results in above-average yields

Alberta's crop producers continue to show resiliency despite dry growing conditions and the rising costs of farm inputs.

For more than a century, agriculture has contributed to Alberta's economic success and identity. As global events threaten the viability of supply chains and food security, the international community is looking to Alberta to put food on tables and feed a hungry world.

Alberta's final Crop Report of the 2022 growing season indicated significantly higher yields – about 10 per cent above the five-year average.

Overall, quality for hard red spring wheat, canola and dry peas was above their five-year averages, while durum wheat and oats was lower. Quality for malt and feed barley was on par with the five-year average.

Due to favourable conditions, farmers across the province were two to three weeks ahead in harvest progress for the second straight year.

"Alberta's producers have faced a number of challenges over the years, but through their hard work and dedication, continue to show the immense value of the agriculture sector and the contributions this industry makes to our economy and communities." -Nate Horner, Minister of Agriculture and Irrigation

Soil moisture

Soil moisture reserves declined due to dry conditions in late summer and fall. As of Oct. 11, surface soil moisture was rated as 40 per cent poor, 32 per cent fair, 27 per cent good and one per cent excellent. However, it is anticipated that soil moisture reserves and surface water supplies will build up to an acceptable level before the 2023 growing season.

Supports for producers

Agriculture Financial Services Corporation continues to provide much-needed business risk management tools to producers facing adverse conditions.

Quick facts

- The Alberta Crop Reporting Program has delivered timely information on crop production since 1940.

- As of Oct. 11, about 99 per cent of all crops have been harvested, two to three weeks ahead of the five-year average.

- The south region had the highest yields at 18 per cent above the five-year average, followed by the Peace region, where yields were 12 per cent above the average.

- Dryland yields for the central and northeast regions were estimated at nine and eight per cent above the five-year averages. For the Peace region, yields are estimated to be six per cent above the average.

- About 94 per cent of hard red spring wheat and 78 per cent of durum wheat are grading in the top two grades.

- About 34 per cent of barley is eligible for malt and 54 per cent is grading as No. 1 feed.

- Agriculture Financial Services Corporation's current suite of business risk management programs serves producers faced by adverse conditions, providing needed financial support.

- The suite, which includes AgriRecovery, AgriInsurance, AgriStability and AgriInvest, is designed to respond to each producer's unique situation and offset the financial impacts of weather-related challenges such as hail damage.

- Agriculture and Irrigation provides online information and tools to help with on-farm business management and production issues during dry conditions and periods of business stress. -AB News

Edson 4-H Club update

by Brinley, 4-H Club reporter

Our first ride night was on September 21, and we got to know each other and our horses.

On October 19 we had our first Edson 4-H Club meeting which included elections.

October 15 was our Cowboy Challenge and on October 22 we held our Multi Judging, a mandatory element. Judging activities give 4-H members a chance to develop important life skills, practice public speaking, and gain self-confidence.

And on October 26, we had our Halloween ride night which included playing riding games.

Members had to move carrots and pumpkins on barrels following a pattern. Some horses ate our carrots before the game was over. We also got to play guessing games to win candy, then we got to make our horses treats and give it to them.

The Edson 4-H club would like to thank Mountainside for the light tower.

MP Soroka's question on the Economy

OTTAWA: Gerald Soroka, Member of Parliament for Yellowhead stood in the House today and asked the following question on the economy:

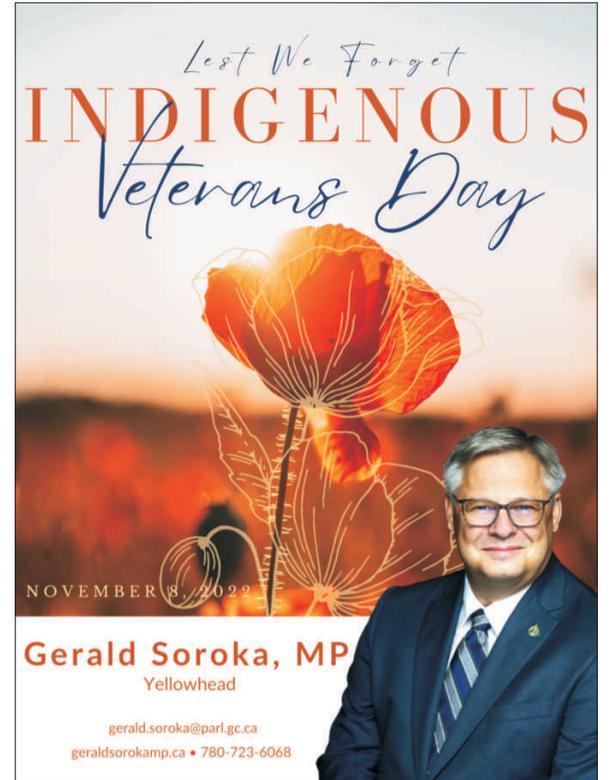

"Mr. Speaker, Gianne, a mother who lives in my riding, is worried about the carbon tax that now comprises over 64% of our energy consumption. With an ongoing cost of living crisis, she is already struggling to make ends meet and soon will have to choose between food and warmth this winter.

Will the NDP-Liberal government cancel its planned carbon tax increase so that hard-working Canadians like Gianne do not have to choose between eating or heating this winter?"

Response from The Hon. Steven Guilbeault (Minister of Environment and Climate Change, Lib.):

"Mr. Speaker, the cost of climate change for Canadians is in the tens of billions of dollars, and it seems like the Conservative Party of Canada does not understand that we are all paying for this. There is no escaping it.

We have to address the issue of climate change as we address issues of affordability, which is why two weeks ago, thanks to the climate action incentive payments, a family of four received $186 in Ontario, $208 in Manitoba, $275 in Saskatchewan and $269 in Alberta. They will be receiving this four times a year."

Community generosity brings new benches to Surprise Lake Camp

by Arthur White Owl

It's not everyday you come across a situation where everybody involved is a winner. This past week, Surprise Lake Camp benefited from a win/win/win/win/win event that still has me shaking my head.

The camp needs some new seating for the campfire area and for events. I messaged a former camp alumni at the PCHS to see if the woodworking class would be interested in doing a project (benches). She passed that on to Dylan Gullason, the class instructor, who in turn contacted me to say they would be happy help out. He also mentioned that Oct 27 was the Community Outreach Day.

Well...nothing was going to happen without material so a quick proposal was submitted to Timberjack asking if they would be interested in donating some lumber, fasteners, and paint for 10 benches. The next day, Ken from Home Hardware called to say they would donate what we asked. John Ahlf moved the material to the school. That evening, the instructor, worked until 3 am, cutting bench pieces for assembly by his class the next day. Now that is dedication!

By the end of their class the next day, there were 5 benches assembled with 3 painted. Pretty awesome.

So the wins here as I see it are:

1. The students got to learn more and practice some new skills. Thank you students.
2. The PCHS touched the community in many positive ways. Building benches was just one of many projects going on that day. Thank you PCHS
3. Home Hardware is going to get some word-of-mouth advertising for their donation to the project. Thank you Ken.
4. George Wadey designed these very comfortable, portable and durable benches from scratch. The plans were available and simple to work with. Thank you George
5. Surprise Lake Camp has new comfortable benches. Thanks to all of you who will be coming out to the camp in the future. When you sit on these benches, you can feel like a winner.

PCHS's skilled woodworking class constructed the benches that were headed to Surprise Lake Camp.
